Olijfolies proeverij bij restaurant Artusi in Delft

Marcel Dörr,
Artusi's chef-kok

It was a great experience! It was not only an opportunity to cook for a selected group of gastronomy experts, including famous culinary journalist. But the discovery over a new method of quality control, it was for me a surprise. In our work it open a new point of view about the presentation and the taste experience that we can offer to our guest. Every dishes has the best combination with the right choice of a great olives oil. The Italian CNO introduction in The Netherlands it was an impressive event!

- A nice and well selected Group of guests
- Very interesting argument
- Great presentation of magnificent quality of Olives oil
- New opportunity to present dishes and to work with several kind of olives oil quality
